

The Kiss

The kiss is just after the Pronouncement of Marriage. The old fashion words are: Gm, you may kiss “the” Bride. Tom feels that “the” is rather impersonal and likes to use “your Bride” OR “Bde, you may kiss your Groom.”

The Kiss

Kiss - 1.

You may kiss.

Kiss - 2.

Gm, you may kiss your Bride.

Kiss - 3.

Bde, you may kiss your Groom. (This is unexpected, non-traditional, and always gets a laugh.)

Kiss - 4.

Please seal your covenant with a kiss.

Kiss - 5.

Please seal your promise with a kiss.

Kiss - 6.

Please seal your vows with a kiss.

Kiss - 7.

Please seal your marriage with a kiss.

Kiss - 8.

Please start your marriage off with a kiss.

Kiss - 9.

Congratulations! Please share your first kiss as husband and wife.

Kiss - 10.

May the vows you have both professed be sealed with a kiss of everlasting love.

Kiss - 11.

As kisses are messengers of love, please kiss now and let soul meet soul on each other's lips.

Kiss - 12.

Please share the first kiss of your marriage.

Kiss - 13. - Second Marriage

Bde and Grm, you may now embarrass your children (and/or grandchildren) by kissing.
